Emerging children's author Michelle Moskiewicz publishes a new picture book titled Petey the Pitbull about finding friendship despite differences. Now Available for Review

NEW BERN, North Carolina - December 1, 2020 - Rising author Michelle Moskiewicz announces the release of her picture book Petey the Pitbull available on December 10th, 2020 in paperback and eBook at Amazon and peteythepitullbook.com for 9.99 for paperback and 5.99 for Kindle eBook.

The other dogs at the animal shelter won't let Petey the Pitbull, who only has three legs, play with them because she doesn't play the same way they do. As Petey watches the other dogs get adopted, she feels lonely until a little boy who doesn't play the way others do finds her and brings her home.

Petey the Pitbull is the first book in what will become a series of books where Petey the Pitbull and her boy tackle tough issues like bullying, disabilities, making friends, and new experiences while bringing awareness to subjects of Autism Spectrum Disorder and Shelter Animals in simple, colorfully drawn stories for children ages 0-6 years.

Michelle Moskiewicz is studying for her BFA in Creative Writing at Full Sail University and is expecting to graduate in 2021. Michelle is a United States Marine Corps Veteran who spent nine years on Active Duty, serving in support of Operation Enduring Freedom as a Cryogenic Technician.

40% of profit of each book's sale will be split and donated to Misplaced Mutts Animal Rescue and the Autism Society of North Carolina.
